UGO ORLANDI

Ugo Orlandi (<http://www.ugo-orlandi.it/>) is a dominant figure in the panorama of international mandolin music. As a soloist he has taken part in concerts and tours all over the world – notably with Claudio Scimone’s “I Solisti Veneti”, and has performed in the most prestigious festivals in Europe and America. His interest in the rediscovery of the musical world of the mandolin has led him to record various programs, many of which feature as world premiere recordings. His interest for the early music and the musicological research brought him to do research in the field of the historical repertoire for the mandolin such as Domenico Scarlatti’s sonatas and to redact the editions of “Il Periodo d’oro del mandolino” and “Mandolin memories” (ed. Turris, Cremona). He has collaborated with the Solisti

Aquilani, Wiener Kammerkonzerte, Berliner Philharmoniker, Sergio Vartolo, Jordi Savall, Zubin Metha and Claudio Abbado. With the “Solisti Veneti” he has recorded 2 Cds for the ERATO presenting Concertos by G.F.Giuliani, F.Lecce and the complete version of the Concertos for mandolin by A. Vivaldi.
